

Jasmine Ayoubi

Jasmine Ayoubi grew up in Irvine, CA and received her BS in Pharmaceutical Chemistry from the University of California, Davis. While she was enrolled at UC Davis, she tutored students in microbiology, conducted chemistry education research, and spent time as a biochemistry researcher at Academia Sinica in Taiwan.

She now works at AbbVie, Inc. in the Regulatory Affairs department and supports international drug and device registrations and renewals.

Jasmine likes spending her free time outdoors; hiking, camping, or enjoying some ice cream.
