

Sandra Garcia

Sandra is a Los Angeles native who graduated with a B.A. in International Development Studies at the University of California, Los Angeles. Since graduating she has volunteered at Peace Over Violence as a Counselor Advocate assisting survivors of sexual assault and domestic violence.

She currently works as a Research Associate at the Evaluation & Training Institute (ETI), a non-profit research consulting firm specializing in early education. At ETI, Sandra specializes in qualitative research, while also being skilled at running descriptive statistics, data analysis, instrument development, and report writing.