

Teresa Perez

Teresa Perez is a native Angeleno who received her Bachelor of Arts in Environmental Science and Policy from California State University, Long Beach. Teresa's interests in environmental justice and public health began as a CivicSpark AmeriCorps Fellow for the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health (DPH). She has worked on several DPH programs to bring health services to underserved communities across LA County.

She currently works for GRID Alternatives, a solar non-profit whose mission it is to build community-powered solutions to advance economic and environmental justice through renewable energy. She manages the TCC Green Together Program, a collaborative effort in the community of Pacoima to build a healthy and safe community that is resilient to climate change.